

PRESIDENTS OF NACN-USA & BRIEF HISTORY

1909		Guild of St. Radegone for Nurses (for students & graduates of recognized schools of nursing in Boston.
1924		International Catholic Guild of Nurses (ICGN) founded in June 1924 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Spiritual Director, Fr. Edward J. Garesche, S.J.
1933		1st International Committee of Catholic Nurses (now CICIAMS) met in Lourdes, France
1933		In the United States, a new constitution & bylaws of a “national character” were adopted by ICGN & the name changed to the “National Federation of Catholic Nurses.”
1935		2 nd International Congress of Catholic Nurses (now CICIAMS) held in Rome Pope Pius XI address, “After describing the important work of the Nurse, her lofty vocation and the preparation so necessary for the successful execution of her mission to the sick, His Holiness Pope Pius XI told the assembly that it was the duty of every Catholic nurse to belong to Catholic associations of nurses and to promote them in every way possible (excerpt from G. Cardinal Pizzardo’s 1937 letter to bishops).
1937		Excerpt from the Address of Pope Pius XI to the 3 rd International Congress of Catholic Nurses: “...The exercise of the profession of nurse is surely one of those which offer the greatest possibility for the apostolate, but we must not forget that the nurse, in the exercise of her profession, has to employ all sorts of technical means, and lives in a materialistic atmosphere, exposed to the danger of a limited interior piety only, dissociated from the profession and exterior practices enjoined by the Church. Furthermore, modern theories seek to penetrate the minds of Catholic nurses and to make them become unconsciously strong agents for the propagation of eugenics and neo-malthusianism. It is necessary, then, to protect them by means of Catholic Action, which has for one of its duties to sustain and fortify them in their professional and Christian formation.” (Reference p25 Conference Report – Excerpt from Pope Pius XI address).
1937		3 rd International Congress of Catholic Nurses (now CICIAMS) held in London.
1938		G. Cardinal Pizzardo shared the report from the 3 rd International Congress of Catholic Nurses (now CICIAMS) and wrote each bishop expressing His Holiness Pope Pius XI’s desire “that ways and means be found to emphasize the necessity of bringing all Catholic nurses within the influence of Catholic Association of Nurses” and requested “In accordance with this wish of the Holy Father, It is most desirable, Your Excellency, that the Catholic nurses of the United States be gathered into one national association under the direction of the respective Ordinaries of the Hierarchy.” ...”In keeping with the wish manifested in the words of His Holiness, that the Archbishops and Bishops should organize local associations of Catholic nurses according to the needs of their respective diocese, which in due time, under the guidance of the Hierarchy, might be united to create a National Federation of Catholic Nurses.”
